NEW INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS AVAILABLE

The Center for Continuing Education is happy to announce the availability of two kinds of new instructional materials that have been designed for use with deaf adults.

The STEP Series is a programmed workbook series for teaching written English to deaf adults. Each 80 page workbook focuses on one grammatical error frequently made by deaf students who are enrolled in adult basic education courses. A limited number of experimental copies of the first workbook, "Articles," are available from the Center at this time.

Four instructional packages, "Indoor Plants," "Pruning Plants," "More Meat for Your Money," and "Safe Methods for Canning," can also be borrowed from the Center.

Gallaudet College faculty and staff are encouraged to look at these materials and help evaluate them before large scale investments are made in the production of these and similar materials. Please call Elaine Costello at 626 (voice and TTY) for more information.

NEED A BUS SCHEDULE?

Since late this summer Metrobus information has been available for deaf people living in the Washington Metropolitan Area. By calling 638-3780 you will be connecting with a TTY in Metro's Consumer Information Office. The TTY is manned seven days a week from 6 a.m. to 12 midnight.

To get quick, accurate information about bus routes please have the following information ready:

1. Where you want to go. Specifically tell where you want to start from and what your final destination is. (A street intersection, if possible, would be best.)

2. The day of the week and time of day you want to go.

If you would like to have timetables or maps mailed to you just tell the operator and leave your name and address.

EXTENDED LIBRARY HOURS

In response to student requests, the library will be open until midnight Wednesday evenings beginning this week, November 12. Hours for the remainder of the week are as follows:

THE GIVING OF PEOPLE...

...by people, for people is the theme for the Combined Federal Campaign this Bicentennial Year. As a government-wide drive, this effort aids more than 100 community service groups in the area, as well as several national health and international service organizations.

The Gallaudet campaign will take place between November 10 and December 3, and all employees will receive an information brochure and pledge card. Contributions can be made now by check or cash or by payroll deduction throughout the coming year.

Please note that you may give your donation to one or more specific agencies by writing the agency number and amount on the back of your pledge card. The Gallaudet community may be interested to know that the National Health Care Foundation for the Deaf, the only half-way house for emotionally disturbed deaf adults, does receive support from the CFC.

For further information, contact your keyperson, Claire Timmons or Stan Kelly.

FORUM WITH ART BUCHWALD

The Center for Continuing Education will present Art Buchwald, world famous columnist, author and humorist, at the Gallaudet Forum on November 25.

Tickets for the Forum, which include dinner and the lecture, are $5. The speech will start at 6 p.m. sharp in the Auditorium followed by dinner in the Student Union Building.

Get your tickets now as this is sure to be a sellout event.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Congratulations to Mike and Diane Lockhart on the birth of a son, Glenn Russell. Their second child weighed in at 7 lbs. 2 oz.

BE SURE NOT TO MISS...

...The opening performance of the Gallaudet College Theatre's production, "Hands," on November 14. Developed from improvisation by the cast and directed by Gil Eastman, the production is dedicated to George Detmold. A reception will follow.

..."Secrets of the Movies," the third program in the Time-Out series sponsored by the Hyattsville Library. Interpreted for deaf members of the audience, the program will be held on Saturday, November 15, at 10:30 a.m. All 8-18 year olds are invited to this free program featuring Carol Beall, a former guide at Universal Studios.

...an interpreted tour of the National Museum of History and Technology on November 15. Buses will leave from the Gallaudet Auditorium at 11:30 a.m.

...open season from November 15 to December 31, when all Gallaudet employees are eligible to make changes in their health insurance program.
